Description :

PDF-d7282 | An economic historian argues that privately funded space exploration is not a new development, but a trend beginning with the astronomical observatories of the nineteenth century. Over the last half-century there has been a rapid expansion in commerce off the surface of our planet. Nations and corporations have placed hundreds of satellites that provide billions of dollars' worth of communicati... The Long Space Age: The Economic Origins of Space Exploration from Colonial America to the Cold War
